

EARLY CABELL FAMILY GRAVEYARDS

Green Hill

Located in Buckingham County, John Cabell's Green Hill estate is now part of James River State Park. It is thought that John may have been buried here but his grave has never been found.

In July, 2009 while starting work on a new visitor's center, the State Park uncovered an area that they think may be the site where John Cabell was buried. Due to budget constraints, the funds were not available at that time for further archaeological exploration. The site was recovered for protection.

On April 10, 2018, a memorial stone was placed in state park to honor John Cabell. The memorial stone project was organized and financed by a descendant of John. Special thanks to employees of the Park for their assistance.

Graves located in the Cabell Family graveyard within the James River State Park follow.
